Visit GSOC at the 2016 Minnesota Farmfest

By: Lareina Taing

If you are a farmer or come from a farming family, Minnesota Farmfest is a great opportunity to explore cutting-edge agriculture equipment and services. This year marks the 35th annual Minnesota Farmfest! Recognized as the fourth largest outdoor agriculture tradeshow in the U.S. by Trade Show News Network, Farmfest connects thousands of attendees with top producing farmers, industry-leading manufacturers, and suppliers. The three-day event consists of various networking opportunities, demonstrations, and exhibits. With approximately 600 exhibitors every year, chances are you will find a booth or event that strikes your particular interests.

GSOC has attended this event for over two decades. Having a booth at Farmfest every year gives us a chance to spread the “Call or Click before you dig” message to stakeholders in the agricultural industry.

Visit us at booth 4100 and learn about underground infrastructure, since buried lines are everywhere and the agricultural equipment you might use today digs deeper than the plows used in the past. Find out more about the dangers of contacting buried lines. Tell us what you think about how we can improve our internal processes to better serve our users. Ask us any questions you may have, and learn about what steps you can take towards underground damage prevention. You might just walk away with a cool giveaway item!

Keep you, your loved ones, and your property safe by always contacting GSOC 48 hours in advance, excluding weekends and holidays, before you begin any type of excavation, especially farming activities. Getting buried public utility lines marked is the first step toward excavation safety. Stop by the GSOC booth at Farmfest to learn more!

Remember that private farm taps and other customer-owned facilities are not marked by GSOC. You may need to hire a private locator to get your private lines marked. Click here to learn more about private facilities.
